FROM THE CHAIRMAN

Welcome to the officials, players and supporters of Spartans Youth for this Cherry Red Records Combined Counties League Division One match along with the referee Ollie Beirman and his assistants Andre Johnson Small and Steven Williams.

Firstly, I am pleased to welcome our match day sponsors Uxbridge Amblers. This group of football fanatics are great supporters of Brook House and have supported us for many years even when we were disguised as AFC Hayes.

I hope they enjoy the celebratory atmosphere at Farm Park this afternoon after winning the Middlesex County FA Premier Cup on Wednesday evening.

Before we were able to lift the coveted County trophy, we had to endure a very tense evening at Hanwell Town against our close rivals Rising Ballers Kensington.

The match ended 1-1 at full time so we had to have a penalty-mark competition. Our goalkeeper Adam Childs was superb as he made three tremendous save to clinch the 4-3 victory on kicks.

It is safe to say the lads and management team plus coaches celebrated long into the night and they deserved it.

No doubt, they will have recovered to take on Spartans Youth this afternoon and I am keen that we continue our good form - last weekend was just a blip against a very good British Airways outfit keen to be promoted - to ensure we finish as high as possible in the table. There is a chance if we win today, we will no longer be 16th or even 17th.

As a reminder, we have another home match on Monday evening when Molesey are the visitors in a re-arranged match. This game is at Chalfont St Peter at 7.30pm.

COMBINED COUNTIES LEAGUE REVIEW

It was a night to remember for Brook House as they lifted the Middlesex FA County Premier Cup.

In a tense match at Hanwell Town, there was little to choose between ourselves and opponents Rising Ballers Kensington in front of a bumper crowd of 268.

The showpiece tie was still in deadlock at the full-time whistle with forward Mark Richards scoring the Brook House goal. This meant the clash would have to be decided by kicks from the penalty-mark.

Mike Koscienc converted the first kick for Brook House but Rising Ballers' Bilal Bikali failed to convert his kick. Shakur Farah and Shane Kettle were also successful but Rising Ballers missed their third. Brook House's Mohammed Ali and Nico Rasura were also off target.

However, there was another Rising Ballers' miss but Harrison Woods made certain of the win while Adam Childs pulled off some fine saves.

VISITING THE BROOK

SPARTANS YOUTH

Spartans Youth have started to show some good form in recent weeks and this has helped to allay any lingering fears of relegation.

Last weekend the Northwood-based side pulled off an excellent 2-1 victory over high-flying Yateley United with goals from Lewis Davis and Samuel Dodoo.

Also in recent weeks, they have defeated Hillingdon Borough where Davis and Kylon Pierre were on target.

Another impressive result was the 6-0 triumph at Woodley United where Dodoo and Donell Owuman-Mensah both scored twice with the other goals coming from Khalid Dovie and Davis.

The Spartans form though has not been consistent as they have also suffered defeats recently against Windsor, by a 1-0 margin, and London Samurai Rovers, where they had a 4-0 setback.

Brook House have suffered defeats twice this season against Spartans Youth going down 3-2 away in the Cherry Red Records Combined Counties Division One. Then they were knocked out by Spartans Youth on kicks from the penalty mark in the Esoteric Records Division One Cup after a 2-2 draw. STOP PRESS: London Colney 0 Spartans Youth 1

THE NON-LEAGUE PAPER

ESSENTIAL READING FOR FOLLOWERS OF THE NATIONAL GAME

Footballers are often accused of forgetting their roots but that's not necessarily a fair reflection of the reality.

Even this week, Aston Villa striker – and England Euro 2024 hopeful – Ollie Watkins took time out of his end of season run-in schedule to watch Truro City take on Torquay United in the National League South.

Watkins' mate Connor Riley-Lowe is Truro captain and the 28-year-old went along to show his support.

The pair played together at Exeter City but Watkins is no stranger to non-league football following a loan spell at Weston-super-Mare a few years back before his career really took off in the EFL and, these days, beyond.

Of course, non-league is a haven for former top flight footballers, FA Cup winners and ex-internationals – many enjoy winding down their careers on the pitch or go into management at the level. Some even enjoy great success.

Others choose to focus on getting involved with a club off the pitch too. It will be interesting to see how many look to go that route in the future.

Former Crystal Palace winger Wilf Zaha is now involved with AFC Croydon Athletic – alongside British rap star Stormzy – and watched their Combined Counties League game at Camberley Town on Tuesday night.

In last week's NLP, Tony Incenzo wrote a revealing piece with QPR defender Steve Cook and his involvement with Sussex-based outfit Westfield.

The Mid Sussex League side are dreaming of climbing the Pyramid over the coming seasons with Cook happy to be helping out.

"Hastings is my home town," the former Bournemouth man told Tony. "My mum and dad still live there. Westfield is only five minutes down the road and it is a lovely little village. Hopefully I can raise the club's profile to push them forward.

"I decided to get involved because my close friend Jack Stapley and his family have been running Westfield for a while. I'd often spoken to Jack about the club and a lot of my friends play non-league. So I said to Jack: 'Oh, if you ever need a hand or want me to help out then just let me know.' And he replied: 'Yeah!'

"I've always taken an interest in life below the EFL. When I was a young Brighton player, I went out on loan to non-league clubs at Havant & Waterlooville, Eastleigh, Eastbourne Borough and Mansfield Town - who were then in the Conference

"It benefitted me a great deal. I came up against tough adult opponents rather than other youth players. It was a major influence on my early development and even the way I play football nowadays."

And Cook recognises the important role non-league football plays in the English game.

He added: "It is rewarding for me to give something back to the game. Yes I am playing for Queens Park Rangers but I regularly chat to other Westfield officials via Zoom meetings which keep me in the loop.

"I firmly believe our non-league ranks play a huge part for any aspiring footballers who want to go far."
